DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-39 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1, 6, 7, 12, 13, 18, 19, 24, 25, 30, 31, 36 and 37-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Allen et al. (US 2005/0187885).

4. With respect to Claims 1, 7, 13, 19, 25 and 31: Allen discloses a method and system for delivering gifts/items/discs (Paragraph 0023) of predetermined size and a maximum weight comprising:

- a. Selecting delivery boxes, each selected of the proper size for a gift/item/disc of a predetermined size (Paragraph 0046);
- b. Providing means for placing a delivery name and address on each box (Paragraph 0025);
- c. Affixing a delivery indicia on each box of the proper denomination for the maximum weight, plus the weight of the box (Paragraphs 0027 and 0034);
- d. Placing a purchased gift/item/disc of the predetermined size and no more than the maximum weight into a box (Allen discloses the sales unit can include multiple items,

Art Unit: 3629

- and discloses that the weight of the sales unit is known and used for calculation for the package, When calculating postage, it is done on weight, therefore if it weighed more, it would cost more, therefore the postage that is calculated is considered to be for only those items and considered to be for the maximum weight of the items, Paragraph 0034);
- e. Closing the box (Paragraph 0025);
 - f. Placing the delivery name and address on the box (Paragraph 0025);
 - g. Delivering the closed box to the carrier (Paragraphs 0022, 0025, 0029).
5. With respect to Claims 6, 12, 18, 24, 30 and 36: Allen discloses providing a gift card for enclosing in or attaching to the box (Paragraph 0025).
6. With respect to Claims 37, 38 and 39: Allen discloses the use of Delivery boxes (Paragraphs 0037 and 0038) for mailing gifts/items/discs (Paragraphs 0021-0025), with pre-paid delivery based on the item and its weight (Paragraphs 0027 and 0046).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.
8. Claims 2, 3, 8, 9, 14, 15, 20, 21, 26, 27, 32 and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Allen et al. (US 2005/0187885).
9. With respect to: Allen discloses the gifts/item/discs are compact discs or DVDs (Paragraph 0023), where the carrier is a postal carrier (paragraphs 0022 and 0029), the indicia is postal indicia (Paragraph 0034) which is pre-paid, based on the item (Paragraph 0046).

However, Allen fails to specifically disclose the discs are in jewel cases, with either one or two discs. Official Notice is taken that is old and well known within the electronic arts, that disks come in jewel cases and there are many jewel cases which accommodate two discs (albums which are a 2-disk set). Therefore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, to mail the disks of Allen in jewel cases in order to protect the disks from scratches. Allen discloses the postage is based on the item, therefore a 2-Disc DVD or CD, the postage amount would be for the weight of 2 discs.

10. Claims 4, 5, 10, 11, 16, 17, 22, 23, 28, 29, 34 and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Allen in view of McClung et al. (US 2004/0059636).

11. With respect to Claims 4, 5, 10, 11, 16, 17, 22, 23, 28, 29, 34 and 35: Allen discloses the use of the post office as the carrier, the examiner considers the USPS to be a freight carrier and a ship carrier, due to the fact that it ships packages all the way across the continent, and therefore considered to be freight. Allen discloses the use of labels which are affixed to boxes, which contain a list of items therein, however specifically fails to disclose the indicia being applied to a waybill which is then affixed to the box. McClung discloses the use of a shipping service, which creates waybills containing carrier information (which the examiner considers to be indicia), and attaches them to the outside of boxes (See Paragraphs 0090-0094). The use of waybills having shipping information and packing information, which is then attached to the outside of packages being shipped, is old and well known in the art. This is done when ordering things remotely, such as over the internet, or large boxed items in warehouses, where reboxing

the item to add a packaging slip is burdensome, therefore the packing lip is attached to the outside of the original box. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, to have the delivery indicia be applied to a waybill, and the waybill being attached to the box, as disclosed by McClung, and well known in the art, in order to provide shipping/delivery information along with the package, for larger items. (See McClung, pages 7 and 8)

Interference

12. The request for interference filed 5/14/07 is acknowledged. However, examination of this application has not been completed as required by 37 CFR 41.102(a). Consideration of a potential interference is premature. See MPEP § 2303.

Response to Arguments

13. Applicant's arguments filed 5/14/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

14. With respect to Applicant's argument that Allen is not a proper reference: When a 102(e) reference is used, the filing date may be used for either a US Patent, or a US Pre-Grant Publication, and its earliest date in the chain of continuity. A provisional application may be used as the 102(e) date as long as the information relied can be found in the provisional and the provisional date is at least one day before the effective filing date of the application. The examiner has supplied a copy of the provisional. The applicant has attempted to enact an interference for the claims, however as stated above, the request for an interference is premature, being that neither set of claims have been indicated as allowable. If the applicant has conception and can show due diligence for the time period before the provisional of the Allen reference to constructive reduction to practice, the examiner suggest filing a 131 Affidavit to overcome the reference, as opposed to an Interference as this time.

Conclusion

15. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

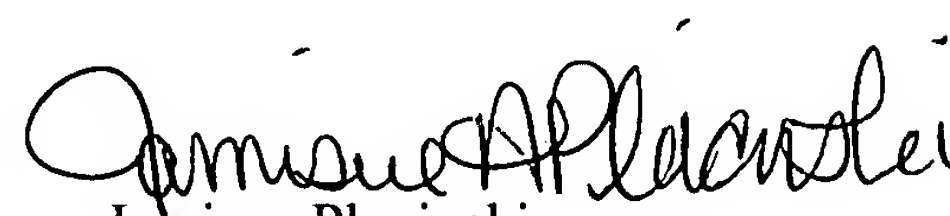

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
